Over 15 years' experience within technology recruitment, currently working as the Head of Cloud & DevOps within the Digital Consulting industry, specialising in Cloud & DevOps, Digital Transformation and Agile.

I have experience of the full recruitment process from internal recruitment, resourcing, team leading, account management, managed services and new business development within Europe, the US and the Middle East.

As a recruiter in this niche, I have a deep understanding of the skills, experiences and qualifications that employers are looking for when hiring in these areas. I work closely with leading companies to identify top talent, and I'm always seeking out new and exciting opportunities for my candidates.
